This week we have continued on our topic of colour with our maths based activities. We have sorted bricks into different colour groups, counting how many of each colour we had. We also used different coloured cars and put them in different places in order to develop our positional language. Our teacher-led activity this week has been remembrance so, in order to commemorate remembrance day this weekend, we also painted our own poppies on paper plates. You can see all of our beautiful poppies proudly on display in our kitchen window.

Applications for primary school places for next year are open

(Please refer to the poster on the main door or ask at the office for the details of how to apply online)

As the weather grows colder, please ensure that all coats, hats and gloves are labelled in order to return your child's belongings to them, should they get lost.

Our Mission Statement
